DONNA PINCINCE

I'm Donna Pincince and I live in Somersworth, NH which is part of the NH Seacoast area. I am actually from MA and grew up in the Boston area. My junior year of high school my parents had a custody battle and I was court-ordered to live with my dad in NH. I hated NH and swore to move immediately back to Boston as soon as I graduated.

God had other plans though and I lost my MA residency status and could only afford a state college in NH. I ended up at UNH where my sophomore year I became a Christian through the ministry of Campus Crusade for Christ. I met my husband, Dave, at a CCC retreat for New England staff and students at the beginning of my senior year. My second senior year he moved up to UNH to work on campus for CCC and we soon started to date. We were engaged on New Year's Eve and then married the day after I graduated. Since my student loan debt was too high for ministry, Dave left staff and took a position at UNH and I got a job at a local child care center. Our original plan was to pay off debt and then go back into ministry but God took our lives in another direction.

On our six month anniversary, we were excited to discover we were expecting our first child. While I was pregnant with our second child, Dave was offered a good job one town over for a Christian company doing sales and marketing. He's been there for eight years now and the job has blessed us with the ability for me to stay home while still paying off all my school debt and buying our first house. He also has flexible hours which have been a blessing through all my pregnancies and especially when our twins were born!

We now have eight children. We have been homeschooling for seven years and were blessed to use Sonlight from the start. We are very active in our local church and have served in various ministries over the years. I have stayed involved with our MOPS group, although as school demands have increased, I have stepped down from leadership. I enjoy reading, scrapbooking, cooking, yardsaling, camping and taking road trips. Most of my time, however, is spent enjoying being a homeschooling mom.
