Dear Friend,

I think about you as I imagine this catalog arriving in your mailbox. Perhaps you'll have to share your copy with many pairs of little hands as you consider what's in store for the school year ahead. I want to encourage you in your homeschool venture and I pray for you as you seek to make wise decisions about how to learn and grow with your family.

This year's catalog is significantly different from any we have published in the past. One of the biggest changes: we've moved almost all the articles about Sonlight to the back of the catalog. Why? Because Wayne, our general manager, convinced us that, by the way we've presented it in the past, we've been making Sonlight more complicated than it needs to be. "Sonlight really isn't all that complex. It's not hard to understand."

Teaching two or more children?

Check out our solution on pages 14-15.

"I'm so much more relaxed now that I use Sonlight..."

I love Sonlight's Instructor's Guides—they have taken so much stress out of my life. I have fewer worries about whether we are covering enough, or too much, or the right things. I really stressed "trying to do it all" while my first child was in pre-K. Since then, we've used Sonlight for K and 1st, and I am so much more relaxed now! My dear husband says that alone is priceless."

—Sandy C, January 2007

Sonlight Curriculum was the winner in SEVEN categories:

- Best character-building materials
 - Best Bible curriculum
 - Best History
 - Best Geography
 - Best Literature
- Friendliest homeschool company
- Most unique homeschool company

He used the analogy of buying a car. The auto manufacturers don't force you to think through all the technical details of the car—how the engine runs, the transmission, the brakes, the way the seats operate, and so forth. They show you the car. They let you try it out. And then, if you're interested, they let you get all the information you want.

"Put the 'car' up front in the catalog," he suggested. So we've done that, beginning on page 2—nine unique "complete packages" for brand-new homeschoolers who have children in preschool through sixth grade. If you're coming in to homeschooling from a classroom school background, any one of these packages, marked by grade, should serve you well.

Of course, if you're ready to "soup-up" your curriculum; if you have multiple children; or if you're starting out at a higher level—middle or high school—then you'll want to turn a little further back in the catalog to mix-n-match the components of your choice.

Need further help? You can call us at (303) 730-6292. Or catch us online at www.sonlight.com. Or, possibly best of all, join the Sonlighters Club community at www.sonlight-forums.com where you can get the assembled wisdom of thousands of Sonlighters who have gone before you. For broad questions, the "Choosing Sonlight" forum is very helpful. But you also have the opportunity to get a free 30-day trial membership to the community in which you can peruse all the program-specific forums to see what current and past customers have had to say about their experiences: what they are studying; what they like; what they don't like ... and why.

I hope we can serve you, as you serve your family, with the only homeschool curriculum that comes with an 18-week, "use it risk-free" guarantee: "Use your curriculum for 18 weeks (half a school year). If it doesn't surpass all your expectations and desires, please return it, used books and all, for a full refund."

I believe you'll find Sonlight Curriculum really is "The Way You Wish You'd Been Taught. Guaranteed."

Take it for a test drive and let me know if you agree.

Sincerely,

Sarita Holzmänn, President

On Our Cover

Jared N of Charlotte, NC, finishes his biology coloring from Science 250 with help from his little brother James. "I love that Sonlight allows the children in our family to develop deep relationships with one another," writes their mom Michele. "We often do history, science, and activities with all the children together, allowing each to gain what he or she can. Where else can you find a 17-year-old cuddling his 1-year-old brother as he does his biology drawing?" The N family has homeschooled with Sonlight for twelve years.

Sonlight Newcomer 6

Newcomer all-in-one packages not quite what you're looking for ... or you have older children?

You'll find in the following pages ample options for students in every grade, from preschool to high school senior!

While our nine Sonlight "Newcomer" packages on pages 2-10 provide the fastest and easiest way to choose a complete school year that carefully matches your children's grades and abilities in the elementary years, you have a lot of flexibility to mix and match exactly what you want for each of your children from our full line of curriculum choices.

To create a personalized curriculum for every child, in every grade, follow these four steps:

Step 1: Based upon the interests of your student(s), choose the "Core" program¹ that matches their topical or subject matter interest within their general age- or grade-range.

For example, American History In-Depth (Sonlight Core 100, page 79) is usually used by students aged 12-16 and Survey of British Literature (Core 530, page 96) is typically done with students aged 16-18. You can find complete, detailed listings for all Sonlight Core programs beginning on page 16.

¹ Sonlight Core packages include History, Geography, Literature and Bible schedule. At the middle and high school levels, they also include complete Language Arts.

Caleb D (3) of Cape Town, South Africa, prefers the hands-on approach to learning as he gets busy constructing towers. "I'm glad I have the colorful books from Core P3/4 to entice Caleb. My two children have very different gifts and abilities, but Sonlight adapts to the learning styles and talents of each of them," writes Caleb's mom, Sue. "It's wonderful to watch your children learn through everyday experiences and also fill their minds and lives with excellent books and great stories! We are only just starting our Sonlight adventure (1½ years and 3 Cores), but we already love every minute!"

Step 2: Pick the Language Arts program that matches the Core you select.

We designed our Language Arts and Core programs to "plug into" one another. For younger students, simply pick the Language Arts program that matches the grade of Readers you've selected. From Level 7 up, your Sonlight Core includes a full Language Arts course—built in. Find all our Language Arts resources with their matched Sonlight Core programs on pages 18-97.

Step 3: Add other subjects to give your students the full, well-rounded education you want for them.

- Math: Choose a "grade" level for your student from the several proven math choices beginning on page 115.
- Science: For younger students, we list our Science programs with the equivalently-numbered Core packages used by students in the appropriate age/grade ranges. For Core packages 200 and up, the Science programs are listed separately. You will find our high school Science programs listed on page 112.
- Foreign Language, Art, Music and other electives: We recommend a Foreign Language for every student from 6th grade up (see pages 130-132). If your student needs an Economics course to graduate, take a look at our unique program on page 98. Other electives include College and Career Planning on page 99, Critical Thinking, Physical Fitness, Driver's Ed, and other practical "life skills" such as Computers, Typing, and Money Management. Find them all in one place, starting on page 126.

Step 4: Make sure you have all the supplies you'll need.

You'll notice that, in each Sonlight Core program, some resources are "required" but not included with the Core package. We offer these resources separately because once you purchase them, you may use them for several years and won't need to buy them again and again. We "recommend" other resources so you can choose to add just what your student needs, and only what he or she needs. You will find both the required and recommended resources listed after each Core package.

These four easy steps will ensure you select all you will need to teach your students with any of the Sonlight programs.

NOTE: Should you be teaching more than one student using the same program, you will want to purchase extra copies of those materials—workbooks, activity sheets, and other such items—that are "consumed" through use by students. The descriptions for these materials include the word "Consumable" in maroon so you can be sure to order them as necessary. (Order one set of each "consumable" for every student you'll teach this year.)—See pages 14-15 for more on teaching two or more students.

"My son Tyler (13) takes Daring to Live on the Edge literally as he reads this Sonlight Bible study book while perched on one of his favorite reading spots!" writes his mom, Diane B. "Tyler is a history buff who loves to do his Core 7 reading outdoors before the snow flies here in Willmar, MN! I look to Sonlight to help me manage my time and stay organized. It's been a great program all around and I can pack it up and take it anywhere." Tyler is in his second year of Sonlight and his sixth year as a homeschooler.

Would you like some help choosing the right program for your student?

Please feel free to call one of our Sonlight Curriculum Consultants at (303) 730-6292. Or visit SONIA (the Sonlight Internet Advisor), an "almost human" computer program who can walk you through the entire choosing process. This forum is free and open to the public, 24/7, at Sonlight-Forums.com. ■

Could you experience greater peace, less worry or frustration, and big savings? Try a Sonlight Core, risk-free ...

Sonlight is far more than “just books.”

We want you to enjoy a complete homeschool experience. That's why we do all we can to help you succeed with every Sonlight Core program.

When you purchase any Sonlight Core, you get (we are convinced) one of the very best deals available anywhere in the world on homeschool materials. Why do we believe this?

You can actually try Sonlight while you decide if it's right for you!

We want you to believe Sonlight is an excellent fit for your family—and we want you to enjoy using your Sonlight Core—even while you evaluate the materials.

You probably know that when you buy individual books (from us or another company), and then decide to return them, there is a strict condition:

You have to treat the books like fragile eggs. Take special care as you crack open the cover: make sure you don't bend it too far or dog-ear the corners. You live in fear that one of the kids might spill something, or the baby may try teething on it...

When you buy a Sonlight Core, you experience none of these worries or fears.

Relax with Sonlight's “Love to Learn” Guarantee:

Buy any Core program or Newcomer package (even “mix and match” to create your own; see page 160 for details) and enjoy “Sonlighting” with your children for a full 18 weeks. That's half of a school year during which you get to test the program as it was meant to be used.

Read your books like any book owner: open wide, pages turned down—the same way you would read any other book you own.

Without fear, you let your kids study and enjoy them, too. They can take the books to bed, read them in the tree house or the bathroom: you won't cringe in dread that one of the books may turn up damaged. Never worry that you won't be allowed to return it.

Go ahead and dive into school. Let students write in activity sheets, and use any consumable resource from weeks 1-18. Gain half a school year of real, hands-on experience with your Sonlight Core—just teaching and reading, not guarding every scrap of material against the slightest wrinkle. Then...

If you're still not convinced Sonlight is truly great... for your kids and you, return it (used books and all) and get back every penny you paid us. We only want happy customers.

Because we back your Sonlight Core with our Half-Year, Risk-Free “Love to Learn” Guarantee, we know you will evaluate the materials differently, more freely, than you would if we merely sold you books.

Try Sonlight for 18 weeks—and take even longer to pay. With our Time Payment option, you can order today with an easy down payment and take up to six months to pay the rest. See page 160 for full details.

Your family can enjoy a rich, positive experience with “real” books.

Think about it: If one book doesn't normally appeal to you, you're likely to skip it entirely. If it's part of a complete program, however, you will likely try the book to see if—just maybe—it holds more value than you expect.

Sonlight's Core programs include—purposefully—a wide variety of literary genres. You may surprise yourself and find—as others have before you: “I've never read a book like that before! I'm astonished at how much I enjoyed it!”

The point is this: When you purchase a Sonlight Core, you and your children are likely to read more widely than if you choose individual books on your own—because we've made these choices for you.

You have our book list in this catalog. But if you buy books “a la carte,” let's be honest: you will either leave many books alone, or choose them only after some serious struggle.

In truth, some customers are thrilled with absolutely every book we include. Very few find more than one or two titles they don't love. Why not save yourself the headache? Try a complete Sonlight Core, and give your kids a broader, fuller education.

Some customers feel school books should push their children at every turn. We've taken a different tack.

You'll experience some books that challenge, and others that soothe. On the one hand, we say, homeschooling can't be all “sunshine and cotton candy,” and often requires real discipline and hard work. On the other, after students have slogged through a difficult title, we think they should get a breather: an excellent title that engages them emotionally, perhaps, but that they can breeze through at a clip.

“The highlight of our day is watching the InquisiKids Discover and Do DVD and then doing Science K experiments all together as a family,” says Michelle J of Riverton, Utah. “Our oldest son is using Science 6 by himself, while the rest of us, from our ten-year-old down to our three-year-old, are doing Science K. Sonlight helps make homeschooling a large family enjoyable.” Here, Kara, Benjamin, Matthew and Rachel have just completed the Science K soaking colors experiment.

Fact: You and your children would almost certainly enjoy most books you can hand-pick from our catalog. However, we believe (based on comments we receive from customers just like you) that if you order a complete Sonlight Core, you're more able to help your children through difficult times... because you recognize that the book is part of a whole package which provides a variety of experiences.

Do you already own “a bunch of” books in the Sonlight Core you'd want to buy?

Your budget is not unlimited. Sonlight works to stretch it for you. For instance, we use some books in more than one Core; in later programs, those books are available separately as a “Required Resource.” You're not forced to order duplicate copies.

Are some books in the Core already on your shelves? That's probably because you value them highly. Is their value greater than the total discount you could save on ALL the other items you want to buy this year? If not, then buying the Core still saves you money.

And wouldn't a few duplicate books (at 10% off) make great year-round gifts? Just one great way a lot of Sonlighters use those occasional extras.

“The Sonlight books intertwine to make a coherent picture of what we study, whether that's history, or science, or China. We've homeschooled with Sonlight all six years and love it!”

—Lisa B, November 2007

You can teach two or more students with a single Sonlight Core. Consider this ...

Walk into many college classes, and you'll find freshmen, graduate students, and all ages between. Sonlight's Core programs work the same way ...

Sonlight uses the term "grade" when we speak of parts of the curriculum which are indeed grade-specific. Examples include our Reader and Language Arts packages, Math and Handwriting programs.

Ultimately, you should choose a program based more on content than on its assigned number. How can this be? The primary reason: Sonlight Curriculum is history-focused and literature-based. And great literature (unlike most textbooks!) speaks to a wide range of ages.

Adults with master's degrees describe Sonlight's Kindergarten program as "fascinating and educational." Straight-A students in 8th grade can study Sonlight Core 5 to good purpose. Many parents tell us they can adapt each program (with little difficulty) to students across a broad range of ages.

Which is more important: what your children know or what "grade" they are in?

We adults don't choose the books we read (or courses we take) based on an arbitrary number. Why should we choose in that manner for our children? If your students have yet to study the most spiritually needy peoples and places on Earth (the subject of Sonlight Core 5), it's time they did—whether they are in 5th grade or 8th.

Each Sonlight Core can serve a wide range of students. From Core 5 up, we recommend you teach each program with students in the same numbered grade or higher. The "Eastern Hemisphere" (Core 5) Instructor's Guide, for example, includes assignments appropriate for students in 5th—8th grades; Core 6 "World History, Part 1," for 6th—8th; and Core 200 "History of God's Kingdom," for 9th—12th.

You can decide (and do) what's best for your family.

You could use separate programs for each child. Why not choose to teach two or more children with one program?

First, you save the time you'd spend juggling the extra program(s), and the money you'd spend on it (them). Then there's the frustration you'd feel from being pulled in multiple directions!

Caution: there are no iron-clad rules about what will work best for you when you use one Core program to teach more than one child. A great way to start: visit Sonlight's online "Choosing" Forum to meet other homeschoolers and draw on their wealth of experience.

No matter how you choose to use Sonlight in your home, you have the backing of our 18-week "Love to Learn" Guarantee (details on page 160). If things really don't work out, return your entire program for a full refund.

Understanding the "RA" (Read Aloud) and "R" (Reader) ratings.
The numbers following the RA and R codes indicate the grade they are appropriate for: P=Preschool, K=Kindergarten, 3=Third, and A=Adult.

Most books in the elementary levels can be read aloud, with explanation and/or discussion, to students at least a year or two younger than the lowest level indicated. That means our low-end RA (Read Aloud) ratings are actually conservative. When you get to Level 7 we start listing many books that we believe are not good candidates for reading aloud—even with commentary—to younger audiences. In such cases, we have noted the fact in the descriptive copy.

Mission to Cathay ②①➔ (NEW) 5R34 $9.50

5 Pollard. A fictional story of Matteo Ricci, the first Roman Catholic ambassador to enter China. Full of cultural detail and adventure. Presents an astonishingly realistic look at many of the difficulties facing Christian ambassadors to unreached peoples. Consumable. S Pb.
RA: 2-A; R: 5-8

Sonlight's "RA" and "R" Ratings help you easily choose the best books to read next

When your students (or you) hunger for more great books to read, you can find what you need in a snap...

Look for Read-Aloud (RA) and Reader (R) ratings for each title (see the example above). Number ratings refer to public school grades: P=Preschool, K=Kindergarten, 3=Third, and A=Adult.

Sonlight's lowest RA ratings are conservative (high). You can read most elementary grade books aloud (with some explanation and discussion) to students 1-2 years younger than the lowest RA grade indicated. Other "elementary" books are rated above their assigned grade; they are so great, we believe it well worth extra effort to make them accessible to younger students. Still other books are NOT good choices for reading aloud to young ones—even with commentary. You'll see higher RA ratings on such titles; most appear in years 7 and up.

Why do RA ratings for many books extend from early grades up through "Adult?" Such books are like the very best "G" rated films: excellent choices to engage your entire family. Books with ratings below "Adult" can captivate all ages, but may not appeal to older readers.

When both R and RA ratings extend to Adult, that book appeals more strongly to serious-minded readers than titles with ratings of 8 or below. In years 5 and up, we urge you: ignore that rating and focus instead on content. Sonlight selects these books primarily for content and accessibility. Your student—and you—can learn plenty!

Worried you might "short-change" your child? Consider this: the next easiest book on the topic is often a college text! College-educated parents rave about what they learn from their kindergarteners' books. Your children, too, can learn content well—even if the source communicates it simply.

Will you teach two or more children this year?

Here's how you can use one Core, Science and Electives program to teach multiple children.

Math and Language Arts tend to be highly grade-oriented: one grade's content builds directly on what came before. However, when it comes to History, Science, Bible, Art, Music, and other subjects, the same content is "perfect" for a whole range of grades and ages.

So consider: What are your children's ages and abilities? Use the "Usually Used By" slider bar to determine the most appropriate Core and Science program for your children by age or grade (Figures 1 and 2).

Unless one or more of your children has a unique learning capability, children within a 3-year age range should be able to use the same materials with few modifications.

Tip: make your own simple chart, like the two examples shown below, to see how teaching your children in a group could work over the next few years.

You can plan around any one of your children, and easily adjust for the rest:

Yes, there are Sonlighters who tell us they teach—very successfully—using multiple Core programs at once. But we rarely recommend that you use more than one or possibly two Sonlight Core or Science programs at one time, especially for elementary aged children. (Older—high school—students may work independently enough that you can more readily handle the workload of an additional program.) But if you can combine even two children, we believe your homeschool experience will be much more rewarding from the start. In addition to saving time and money, your children will enjoy the camaraderie and teamwork of a group.

Are your children separated by more than 3 years? Even then, it is often possible to select one program and adjust or supplement it up or down to meet all of their needs.

Here are some pointers past customers have used to help adjust one program for use by more than one child.

- Choose your Core program with the focus on either your oldest, middle, or younger child. For instance, the Family A example shows the Newcomer package that is appropriate for both Tim and Linda. Jonelle can "listen in" until she is ready to start her own studies—using materials previously purchased for the older children.
- Then choose the appropriate Readers, Math and Language Arts for the other students. You can see in the Family B example we started with the middle child, Bill. Then added the grade appropriate readers for Sue and Tom. These students can continue to enjoy the same Core (history, read alouds, and bible) and simply add the appropriate readers, language arts and math as they progress.

A "Usually Used By" slider bar like this appears with each complete Sonlight program in this catalog. Select a program with an age range that includes most of the children who will use it. Note: You can include a child one year above or below the recommended range. You will simply need to adapt the program for your younger(s) and acquire appropriate supplements for the older(s). For suggestions, please contact an advisor at 303-730-6292 or email advisor@sonlight.com.

Use the "Usually Used By" slider bar in the science section (pages 106-114) to select one science program for students within 2-4 years in age.

P3/4 Fiction, Fairy Tales, and Fun for Little Learners

Core P3/4 Package
with Recommended Resources

NEW! Embark on an exciting journey of discovery with your little learners!

P3/4 Celebrate learning every day ... Sonlight's Core P3/4 is an informal learning program made up of "best-ever" children's classics specifically selected to launch your toddlers (3 to 4 years of age) on thrilling daily journeys of wonder and discovery.

Fuel their imaginations ...

Gather the kids, crack open a specially selected book and set sail for places far and wide. Ignite the imaginations of your toddlers and whet their appetites for the years of discovery to come.

With your children by your side you will:

- Learn a timely lesson in diligence through an adventure-filled search for a bee tree.
- Empathize with Alexander as his day goes all wrong.
- Laugh as you relate to the hilarious antics of Amelia Bedelia.
- Relax in the natural beauty and contentment of family during a morning spent in Maine.
- Grow in recognition of cadence and rhyme as well as the value of perseverance with an elephant who tries to hatch an egg.
- Exclaim in wonder and praise to see God move a tree in response to a missionary's prayer.
- Captivate your children with excellent story-telling while you cultivate a love for learning.
- Develop closer family bonds through intimate time spent together with your toddlers.
- And so very much more ...

It's not school, or a scheduled curriculum ... it's just plain fun!

In these early years, treasure your time reading and interacting with your toddlers. Our Parent's Companion seeks to be very practical and simple.

We developed it to maximize those teachable moments, when your children's eyes, ears, and minds are wide open to further instruction. With each story we offer easy, creative activities to fuel their imagination (and memory) to help them further delight in their "learning adventure" and give them a thirst for more.

No schedules to keep ... no lessons to plan!

Core P3/4 doesn't use a "schedule" like other Sonlight Instructor's Guides.

We simply list the stories by trimester and suggest that you check them off as you read them. If your children wants to read Give a Mouse a Cookie fifteen times in a row—let them do it. And if they wants to skip a book or two "ahead" in the list: go ahead and do that. Remember ... the goal this year is to have fun together!

No "early academics" here: Just give your little ones quality time as you read to and discover with them. Build on their natural curiosity as you cuddle together and learn to love books.

Build a legacy library ...

Core P3/4 is a comprehensive collection of timeless classics that will serve your family for years! You and your tiny tots will read many of these stories over and over again. One day, they will likely read these favorites to their younger brothers and sisters. When possible we selected quality-bound hard-cover additions for the collection, so you'll know that these books will last for years and years.

Includes:

- 167 Stories ... Fiction and True
- 34 Fairy and Nursery Tales
- 15 Picture Books
- 77 Nursery Rhymes and sing-alongs on CD (lyrics included)

- Games that build memory and pattern recognition
 - Our exclusive Parents Companion guide.

☐ Lykosh, Evelyn. "Teaching" your toddler with Sonlight P3/4 is as easy and rich as you want it to be. Let this guide help you fuel your child's imagination, encourage and inspire you, and keep simple track of your progress.

"Asia's eyes light up as we dive into reading together," writes Allison M of China. "Our 3-year-old absolutely loves to 'do school' with Sonlight each day. Her entire being lights up when it's time to read and discover a new world within her school books. She truly hungers for new truth to apply to her changing world. We live in NW China, so having quality books in this area of the world is priceless! Thank you for compiling such a rich collection of endless treasures to light our path."

David V. of Beaverton, OR, makes funny animal sounds as he reads one of his son Daniel's Sonlight favorites ... again. "We love reading the books from Sonlight and especially enjoy our four-year-old's reaction," says Daniel's mom, Angela.

"He wants to read some stories again and again. Daddy usually reads his favorites to him and when he starts to make up things as he reads, Daniel will say 'Read it the right way, Daddy!'"

It's such a joy to see what makes him laugh. We read Old Mother Hubbard daily and he laughs just as much as he did the first time we read it."

The V's are enjoying their first year of homeschooling with Sonlight.

Four-year-old Lydia S of Holton, KS, reads Dr. Seuss' ABCs from Core K to her sister Abigail—on a hotel floor. "Our family made a cross-state move this year, and we had to stay in a hotel for an extended period. Although the movers put most of our belongings in storage, we made sure to keep our beloved Sonlight books with us. Our Sonlight books meant we didn't just bring school—we brought our entertainment with us. Sonlight has given us many precious family memories and we look forward to creating many more in our new home." The S family has used Sonlight for two years.

"Sonlight inspires our family to enjoy exploring together," writes Nicole L of Keller, TX. "The kids had a great time conducting their own archaeological dig in the backyard sandbox after reading Archaeologists Dig for Clues from Core 1."

"Even big brother, who is doing Core 6, couldn't resist the fun; he read the book himself and repeated the proper procedures to the kids as they did their own dig."

Pictured are Zachary, providing dig leadership, and his younger brothers and sister, Max, Maddie, and Lukas. The L family has homeschooled for four years, two with Sonlight.

“We used to do classical education; it was solid, but my daughter hated school. Now, we’re nearly finished with Sonlight Core K and she loves it. My little girl realized that she is learning ‘tons,’ when often she just thinks it’s fun. Learning doesn’t have to ‘look like’ school (sitting at a desk with a textbook). She had lost her natural love of learning, Sonlight helped her get it back.”

Purchase a Core curriculum and you receive all the benefits of membership in the Sonlighters Club. See pg. 13 for a full explanation. ■

“Sonlight is the core of our homeschooling curriculum because our children love listening to stories, and we love reading to them,” says Sharon J of Aberdeen, SD. “Here, my husband Tony reads to Wesley and Irina, after Wesley (doing Core P4/5) woke up laughing to himself about the story they had been reading. “He [the character in the book] is so funny!” was all Wesley could say when asked why he woke up with the giggles. Of course his dad had to read more.” The B family is 1½ years into homeschooling with Sonlight.

I'm amazed at how much he retains from these simple steps. Often, I don't even have to show him where a country is because he's mapped it before and remembers exactly where to find it!" Braden has been homeschooled three years, all with Sonlight.

Six-year-old Braden, three-month-old Benjamin and two-year-old Ethan S of Ladson, SC, enjoy a Sonlight Reader together from Core 1. "One of the big reasons we homeschool is that we want our children to grow up enjoying each other's company," writes their mom, Debra, who's been homeschooling with Sonlight for three years.

"Braden loves reading to his brothers and they love being read to. On this day, I asked Braden to hold Ethan so I could switch some laundry. I came back to find Benjamin curled up with them and Braden reading out loud from his reader. Moments like this make my heart soar and make me know we have made the right decision for our family."

"Sonlight's selection of quality books has given each of our children a thirst for reading," says Wendy P of Orange Park, FL. "All our children are comfortable curled up with a book somewhere, and our Sonlight Reading time is by far our favorite and most effective part of the school day!"

"This is our family's sixth year using Sonlight, and each year we discover even more of the inherent flexibility in Sonlight Curriculum's design. Because the historical content of the Readers correspond to the Core, I can teach all three of my children together, and I love the quality results of reading to our children." Here Wendy's daughter Samantha, who's doing Core 3, reads an I Can Read It! book for extra practice.

- Tag along with Michelangelo as he creates some of the world's most stunning artistic masterpieces.

- Pray for countries and people groups that are largely unreached with the gospel of Christ in Window on the World.

Seven-year-old Eric Z. of Kansas City, MO, proudly reads I Can Read It Book 1 to his daddy and sister, Emily (3), for the very first time.

"When our oldest son Eric was kindergarten-age my husband and I wondered if he would EVER learn to read," writes his Mom, Christa. "I discovered all attempts at seatwork were getting us nowhere. After repeated failed attempts, I put away most of our 'school' stuff, and chose only to continue our Read-Aloud sessions. Three days after Eric's 7th birthday, it suddenly all seemed to click.

"Eric led me to a chair, where he pulled out the first I Can Read It book and slowly read aloud the page about 'Pat the Rat.' When Daddy got home from work, Eric dragged him to the couch, where everyone piled on and listened to Eric read. He couldn't stop smiling; he was so proud of himself. And so were we! It was truly a milestone moment—and we look forward to many more as we continue on our Sonlight journey." The Zs use Core 2, and have homeschooled with Sonlight for four years.
